

ALICE CHEN IS BRIDE IN BERKELEY CEREMONY

Miss Alice Yenheng Chen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shou Yi Chen, 769 W. 9th St., Claremont, became the bride of David Richard Kearns, son of Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Kearns, Urbana, Ill., in International House, Berkeley.

The single-ring wedding occurred Saturday at 3 p.m. Dr. John Robert Van Rohr, formerly of Pomona College, now of the Pacific School of Religion, officiated.

An all-white background was provided by stock, gladioli and candelabra. A hundred guests attended the wedding.

The bride chose a wedding gown of Chantilly lace over antique satin with scoop neckline and cap sleeves, made ballerina length. A coronet of French lace and seed pearls, holding an imported silk illusion fingertip veil, completed her costume.

The bride's only jewelry was a pearl choker. She carried two white orchids with white carnations and stephanotis.

Sister Attends

Miss Robin Chen, Claremont, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. She wore a dress of Alice blue chiffon and taffeta and a matching headpiece and veil. Her bouquet was pale yellow and white roses and carnations.

Samuel Leher of New York was best man.

Bill Jones was pianist.

A reception followed the wedding at International House.

The couple left for a honeymoon in Ensenada, Mexico. The bride's going away outfit was of Navy sheer wool trimmed in white with navy accessories.

Mr. Kearns' mother and sister attended the wedding from Urbana.

Families of Professors

Also attending were the bride's three uncles, Stanley H. Chan, professor of political science at Loyola University, Los Angeles, S. Wing Chan, professor of Asiatic studies at Stanford University, and Dr. Shau Wa Chan, Los Angeles, and their families.

The bridegroom's father is professor of entomology at the University of Illinois and the bride's father is professor of Oriental studies at Pomona College.

The new matron is a 1956 graduate of Pomona College. She is a graduate student at the University of California at Berkeley.

Mr. Kearns graduated from the University of Illinois. He is a doctoral candidate at the UC at Berkeley, in which town the couple will live.

Marriage of CHEN / Kearns

Clipped By:

DawnIngles1

Sun, Jul 3, 2022